Listen and say

Sam and John are shopping at a department store.

Sam: John, do you think I should buy this beach towel?

John: It's winter. Why do you need a beach towel?

Sam: My family is going on vacation to Hawaii in two weeks.

John: Oh, OK. Yes, I think it's cool. I like the shark's sunglasses.

Sam: You're right. I think I'll buy it. I like the shark's teeth.

Now they are in the sports section.

John: Sam, what do you think about this baseball bat?

Sam: It's really nice, but don't you think it's too expensive?

John: Yeah, I'm not going to buy it, but I wish I could afford to. I could probably hit a lot of home runs with it.

Sam: I'm sure you could. Hey, look at that sled. It's awesome!

John: Wow! It looks fast.

Dear Diary,Saturday, June 19th, 20__

My sister Helen graduates from high school next week. She is very excited. My dad and I haven't bought her a gift yet, but everyone else already has. I don't know what I should get her. I want to get her something really neat. She likes jewelry, but my brother already got her a jewelry box. She also likes perfume, but my mom already got her some perfume.

The perfect present for her would be an MP3 player because she really likes music. She is always complaining because she can't listen to music when she is on the subway. I would love to get her one, but I don't have that much money.

Hey! I have a great idea! Maybe my dad and I could buy an MP3 player together. I will have to ask my dad about it tonight. I hope he agrees with me.

Dear _____,

November 11th, 20__

I am glad that you and your family are coming to our house for Christmas this year. I will cook a big dinner and have a lot of presents for everyone to open. It will be so much fun!

I need your help! I haven't seen your family for six months and I don't know what everyone wants for Christmas. What should I buy everyone? Will you please write me a letter and tell me. What does everyone in your family like? What should I buy for them?

Thank you,

Grandma
