

Unit 1 A Cool Place to Stay

Objectives

- New words: Canada, roof, vase, January, melt, April
- Sentence pattern: Prepositions (by, of)

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 6-7. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students if they would want to stay in hotel made of ice, ask for volunteers to talk about places they have traveled to. Ask follow-up questions like: Where have you traveled to in the past? How do you travel (car, plane, train, etc)? Where did you stay when you arrived?

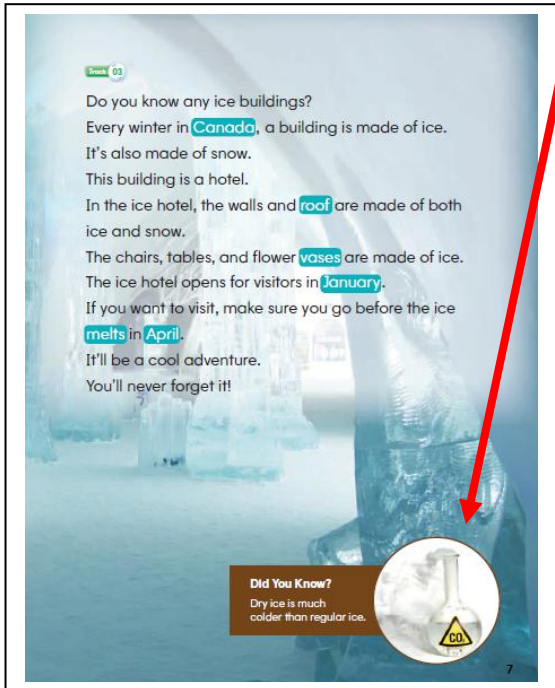

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students' interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 6. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 02 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Track 03

Do you know any ice buildings?
 Every winter in Canada, a building is made of ice.
 It's also made of snow.
 This building is a hotel.
 In the ice hotel, the walls and roof are made of both ice and snow.
 The chairs, tables, and flower vases are made of ice.
 The ice hotel opens for visitors in January.
 If you want to visit, make sure you go before the ice melts in April.
 It'll be a cool adventure.
 You'll never forget it!

Did You Know?
 Dry ice is much colder than regular ice.

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 7. Read the information aloud to the class.
- Dry ice is made of solid carbon dioxide; the same gas people breathe out.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about why someone would need dry ice.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, prepositions. Ask students to make their own sentences with prepositions using the words “dry ice.”

Reading

Reading: “A Cool Place to Stay”

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.
- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.

- Play Track 03. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the “new words” and having students say the “new word.”
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about traveling.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about travel.
- Ask students to think about a time they traveled (and stayed in a hotel or someplace else) that they really enjoyed (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some reasons why they enjoyed the experience.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare the places students have traveled to and where they stayed.

This exercise further reinforces the new vocabulary from the unit.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Word Scramble.”

Have students divide into small groups of 3 students per group. This can also work as a whole-class activity with each student playing on their own.

- On the board, write one of the words from the unit scrambled. This works best if the word remains hidden until ready to begin the round.
- Students need to unscramble and write the correct word (and spelling) on their paper or whiteboard. The first team or student to show their correct word is the winner of the round.
- Continue until all of the words have been addressed.

This exercise further reinforces the new vocabulary from the unit.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Word Scramble.”

Have students divide into small groups of 3 students per group. This can also work as a whole-class activity with each student playing on their own.

- On the board, write one of the words from the unit scrambled. This works best if the word remains hidden until ready to begin the round.
- Students need to unscramble and write the correct word (and spelling) on their paper or whiteboard. The first team or student to show their correct word is the winner of the round.
- Continue until all of the words have been addressed.

Learn It

Write the correct words.

21

Challenge It

This exercise provides additional grammar skills through various activities.

- Read and repeat the example sentences together.
- Ask students why they think the colored words are colored.
- Explain to students that they should use past participles to ask questions about things that happened recently.
- Have students complete number 1 by themselves. Walk around the class and check their work, helping if necessary.

Expansion

- Write sentences on the board, with one grammar error in each sentence. Have students find the mistakes and write the corrections.

Tip

- Direct students' attention to the Tip at the bottom of page 21. Have students refer back to the passage and find the phrase “have got to” within the text.

Writing Workbook 2

Unit 5 Penguin Power

Objectives

- New words: penguin, sky, squid, wing, dive, sharp
- Sentence pattern: Using possessive adjectives in sentences

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 22-23. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students what else penguins do well, ask for volunteers to talk about what they know about animals that live in cold climate.

Ask follow-up questions like: What other animals that live in the cold? How do these animals stay warm? What kind of things do they eat?

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students’ interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 22. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 10 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 23. Read the information aloud to the class.
- Penguins don't fly like other birds do. In place of wings, penguins have flippers that allow them to swim very well.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about other animals that can live in and out of the water.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, possessive adjectives. Ask students to make their own sentences talking about cold climate animals. They should include possessive adjectives in their sentences.

Reading

Reading: "Penguin Power"

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.

- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.
- Play Track 11. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the "new words" and having students say the "new word."
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about cold climates.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about cold climate animals.
- Ask students to think about what they enjoy doing in the cold (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some reasons why they like these things.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare the things that students like to do in the cold.

- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Spelling Corners.”

This activity is best as a whole class, individual player, game. The class is competing against the teacher, not necessarily against each other.

- Give students blank sheets of paper or small whiteboards to write on.
- Tell students that you’re going to give them a word to write. They cannot begin until the teacher starts writing.
- Students need to write the word correctly in each of their paper’s four corners. To earn a point, the students must write their words before the teacher finishes.
- The game continues, until all of the words have been addressed. The class wins if they have more points than the teacher.

Unit 6 A Delicious Treat

Objectives

- New words: invention, frozen, treat, soda, delicious, refreshing
- Sentence pattern: Present Perfect (have/has + past tense verb)

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 26-27. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students what they think Frank invented, ask for volunteers to talk about how they stay cool on hot days. Ask follow-up questions like: What do you wear on hot days to keep cool? What foods or drinks do you like that keep you cool?

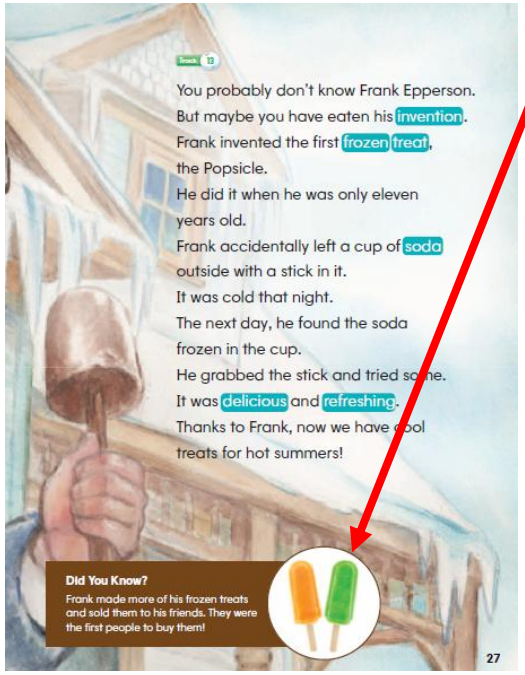

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students' interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 26. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 12 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Level B

You probably don't know Frank Epperson. But maybe you have eaten his invention. Frank invented the first frozen treat, the Popsicle. He did it when he was only eleven years old. Frank accidentally left a cup of soda outside with a stick in it. It was cold that night. The next day, he found the soda frozen in the cup. He grabbed the stick and tried some. It was delicious and refreshing. Thanks to Frank, now we have cool treats for hot summers!

Did You Know?
Frank made more of his frozen treats and sold them to his friends. They were the first people to buy them!

27

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 27. Read the information aloud to the class.

- Popsicles can be made with almost any ingredient.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about what frozen treats they enjoy on hot days.

- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, present perfect. Ask students to make their own sentences with present perfect to talk about frozen treats.

Reading

Reading: "A Delicious Treat?"

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.
- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.

- Play Track 13. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.

- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the "new words" and having students say the "new word."
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to match the numbers on the left to the sentences on the right to put the story in order.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about keeping cool.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about how to stay cool on hot days.
- Ask students to think about extreme weather (either hot or cold) and how they would dress to remain comfortable (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some reasons why they would choose the clothing they wrote about.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare types of clothing students would wear on hot or cold days.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Word Dice.”

Have students divide into small groups of 3 students per group. This can also work as a whole-class activity with having one student roll the die and calling on students to give answers.

- On the board, put up a list of what each number represents. Include: Define (students should give a definition for the word), Use it in a sentence, Synonym (student gives a word with the same meaning), Antonym (student gives a word with the opposite meaning), Draw it (student needs to draw the word without using letters), Act it Out (student uses gestures or body movements to get others to guess the word).
- The first student in each group will roll the die, then select the first word from the list. Based on the number, the student should use their word accordingly.
- The next student goes, then the next, and so on, until all of the words have been addressed.

Unit 7 Down on the Farm

Objectives

- New words: reply, suggest, wise, crop, potato, corn
- Sentence pattern: Linking Verbs (with adjectives) & Action Verbs (with adverbs)

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 30-31. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students what grows on a farm, ask for volunteers to talk about why people grow plants. Ask follow-up questions like: How do plants help us? What do plants need in order to live? Where are good places to grow plants?

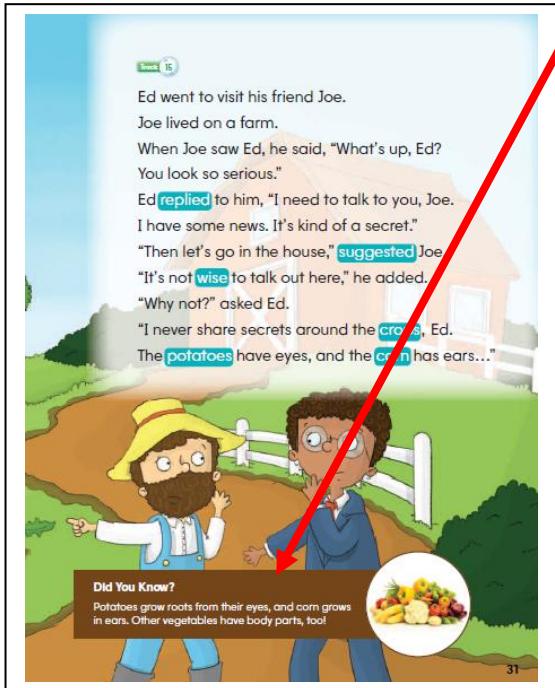

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students’ interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 30. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 14 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Ed went to visit his friend Joe.
Joe lived on a farm.
When Joe saw Ed, he said, "What's up, Ed?
You look so serious."
Ed replied to him, "I need to talk to you, Joe.
I have some news. It's kind of a secret."
"Then let's go in the house," suggested Joe.
"It's not wise to talk out here," he added.
"Why not?" asked Ed.
"I never share secrets around the corn, Ed.
The potatoes have eyes, and the corn has ears..."

Did You Know?
Potatoes grow roots from their eyes, and corn grows in ears. Other vegetables have body parts, too!

31

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 31.
- Different types of vegetables grow in different ways. We eat different parts of different plants. We eat the roots of the potato plant, and the leaves of the lettuce plant.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about how fruits and vegetables are different.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, linking and action verbs with adjectives and adverbs. Ask students to make their own sentences with linking or action verbs using adjectives or adverbs in sentences. Focus on the word "vegetable."

Reading

Reading: "Down on the Farm"

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.
- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.
- Play Track 15. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the "new words" and having students say the "new word."
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students write the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about growing plants.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about growing plants.
- Ask students to think about a plant (fruit, vegetable, or otherwise) that they like very much (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some reasons why they like the plant.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different ideas of the class. Compare the plants students like and their reasons for liking the plants.

Unit 8 Brotherly Love

Objectives

- New words: operation, blood, nurse, buy, needle, bone
- Sentence pattern: Present Participle (verb+ing)

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 34-35. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students what the boy is doing in the hospital, ask for volunteers to talk about when people need to stay in the hospital. Ask follow-up questions like: Have you ever visited someone in the hospital? Why do people need to go to the hospital? How do people get help there?

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students' interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 34. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 16 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 35. Read the information aloud to the class.
- People can donate blood in order to help in times of emergency. Organizations like the Red Cross help get donated blood to the people who need it.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about what they would do to help a family member who was sick.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, present participle. Ask students to make their own sentences with present participle to talk about helping out in the community.

Reading

Reading: "Brotherly Love"

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.

- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.
- Play Track 17. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the "new words" and having students say the "new word."
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to match the causes on the left to the effects on the right.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about helping the community.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about visiting people in the hospital.
- Ask students to think about way they can help people in their family or community (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some of their ideas and why they would like to do them.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different ideas of the class. Compare the ways students can help their community.

Track 23

Pumpkins are one of the common foods eaten all over the world. They are also one of the oldest farmed plants. Researchers have found seeds and pumpkin parts in ancient homes. These things show that people farmed pumpkins a long time ago! Early pumpkins were quite small. But today we can grow them very large. In 2013, a man grew a pumpkin that was over 900 kilograms! This world-record pumpkin was both heavy and big! Two or three people could fit inside of it!

Did You Know?
A pumpkin is a fruit. Because it has seeds inside, it is actually a kind of berry!

51

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 51. Read the information aloud to the class.
- Pumpkin is also a kind of squash. Squash grow in many different shapes, sizes, and colors. They are good to eat in sweet foods like pies and bread and savory foods like soup.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about the different ways pumpkins/squash can be used.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, prepositions of time. Ask students to make their own sentences with prepositions of time to talk about growing, eating, or cooking with pumpkins.

Reading

Reading: “The Amazing Pumpkin”

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.
- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.
- Play Track 23. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the “new words” and having students say the “new word.”
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about seasons.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about what food they like to eat in the fall.
- Ask students to think about a season (the fall or otherwise) that they particularly like (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some reasons why they like that season. They should include ideas about what they like to do and eat.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare the seasons students like and what they like to do and eat during those seasons.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Spelling Corners.”

This activity is best as a whole class, individual player, game. The class is competing against the teacher, not necessarily against each other.

- Give students blank sheets of paper or small whiteboards to write on.
- Tell students that you’re going to give them a word to write. They cannot begin until the teacher starts writing.
- Students need to write the word correctly in each of their paper’s four corners. To earn a point, the students must write their words before the teacher finishes.
- The game continues, until all of the words have been addressed. The class wins if they have more points than the teacher.

- They like to eat pumpkin pies (on / at) Thanksgiving Day.

Tip

Find and circle the words from the reading.
* a long time ago in ancient times; far in the past

53

Challenge It

This exercise provides additional grammar skills through various activities.

- Read and repeat the example sentences together.
- Ask students why they think the colored words are colored.
- Explain to students that they should use prepositions of time to talk about when an event took place, is taking place, or will take place.
- Have students complete number 1 by themselves. Walk around the class and check their work, helping if necessary.

Expansion

- Write sentences on the board, with one grammar error in each sentence. Have students find the mistakes and write the corrections.

Tip

- Direct students’ attention to the Tip at the bottom of page 53. Have students refer back to the passage and find the phrase “a long time ago” within the text.

Unit 12 What Is It?

Objectives

- New words: certain, clue, obvious, consume, smoke, flame
- Sentence pattern: Positive and Negative Imperatives

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 54-55. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students what they think the clues mean, ask for volunteers to talk about how they solve problems. Ask follow-up questions like: What questions do you ask to find information? How do you find answers to questions that you have?

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students’ interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 54. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 24 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 55. Read the information aloud to the class.
- People often use riddles to see how smart or resourceful others are.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to come up with riddles of their own and see if the class can solve them.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, positive and negative imperatives. Ask students to make their own sentences with positive or negative imperatives to talk about or create riddles.

Reading

Reading: “What Is It?”

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.

- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.
- Play Track 25. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the “new words” and having students say the “new word.”
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about riddles.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about solving problems.
- Ask students to think about a riddle that they've heard before (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some ideas about how difficult it was to solve. Ask students to think about how solving the riddle could have been easier.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs. They should talk about what they need to do in order to get their "dream" job.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare the types of riddles students found to be easy and difficult.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Word Dice.”

Have students divide into small groups of 3 students per group. This can also work as a whole-class activity with having one student roll the die and calling on students to give answers.

- On the board, put up a list of what each number represents. Include: Define (students should give a definition for the word), Use it in a sentence, Synonym (student gives a word with the same meaning), Antonym (student gives a word with the opposite meaning), Draw it (student needs to draw the word without using letters), Act it Out (student uses gestures or body movements to get others to guess the word).
- The first student in each group will roll the die, then select the first word from the list. Based on the number, the student should use their word accordingly.
- The next student goes, then the next, and so on, until all of the words have been addressed.

Objectives

- New words: octopus, heart, amazing, solve, puzzle, ink
- Sentence pattern: can/might + base verb

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 58-59. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students whether they think the octopus is dangerous or friendly, ask for volunteers to talk about strange animals that they are familiar with. Ask follow-up questions like: What makes the animal unique? Would the animal make a good pet? Or should it remain as a wild animal? How can people learn from the animal?

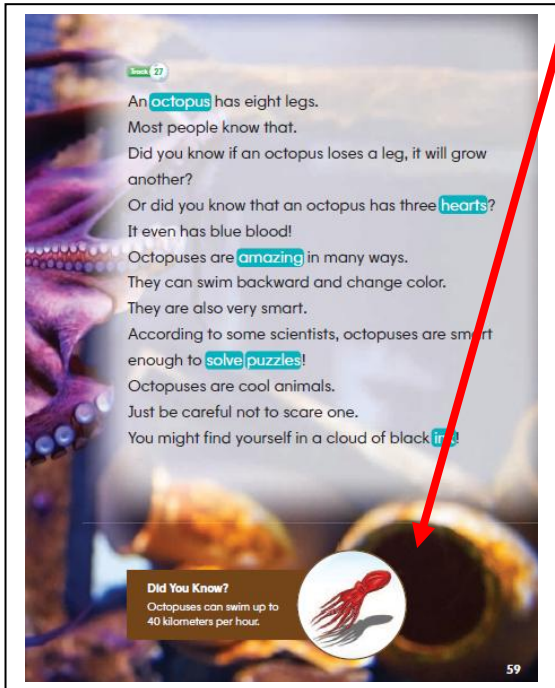

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students' interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 58. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 26 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 59. Read the information aloud to the class.
- Octopus and squid are both types of an animal known as a cephalopod. These animals are only found in the ocean.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about how being able to solve puzzles and change color would benefit an octopus.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, can/might + base verb. Ask students to make their own sentences with can/might + base verb to talk about octopus or squid.

Writing Workbook 2

Unit 15 Better Together

Objectives

- New words: fishing, storm, island, bottle, genie, magic
- Sentence pattern: Expressing Wishes (...wish...had/were not...)

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 66-67. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students to think about how the men are feeling, ask for volunteers to talk about the things they would wish for. Ask follow-up questions like: What makes a good wish? Would you make wishes for yourself or for others? What kinds of wishes would you make?

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students’ interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 66. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 30 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Did You Know?
In the famous story of Aladdin, the genie lives in a magic lamp. In other stories, genies live in rings.

Track 31

Three men went fishing, but their boat went down in a storm. They swam to a small island and found a strange bottle. When they opened the bottle, a genie came out! The genie gave each man a wish.

"I wish I were home!" said the first man. The genie used magic to send him home.

"I wish I were home, too!" said the second man. The genie sent him home.

"I miss my friends," said the last man. "I wish they were here with me."

67

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the top of page 67.
- Not all genies are kind. In fact, in some other stories, genies are mischievous (play tricks) or even mean.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about stories they have heard about genies.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, expressing wishes. Ask students to make their own sentences and express their wishes using the word "genie."

Reading

Reading: "Better Together"

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.
- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.

- Play Track 31. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the "new words" and having students say the "new word."
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to match the numbers on the left to the sentences on the right to put the story in order.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about wishes

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about making wishes.
- Ask students to think about something they want (it can be from money, to fame, to traveling, etc) and would ask a genie for (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some reasons why they want the wish to come true.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare the wishes and reasons for wanting them to come true.

Check It

A Choose the best answers.

- What is the reading about?
 - Surviving a storm
 - How to fish
 - The wishes of three men
- The genie was inside a _____.

Learn It

This exercise further reinforces the new vocabulary from the unit.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Word Dice.”

Have students divide into small groups of 3 students per group. This can also work as a whole-class activity with having one student roll the die and calling on students to give answers.

- On the board, put up a list of what each number represents. Include: Define (students should give a definition for the word), Use it in a sentence, Synonym (student gives a word with the same meaning), Antonym (student gives a word with the opposite meaning), Draw it (student needs to draw the word without using letters), Act it Out (student uses gestures or body movements to get others to guess the word).
- The first student in each group will roll the die, then select the first word from the list. Based on the number, the student should use their word accordingly.
- The next student goes, then the next, and so on, until all of the words have been addressed.

Writing Workbook 2

Unit 16 Becoming Different

Objectives

- New words: caterpillar, tease, trust, mirror, handsome, moth
- Sentence pattern: Past Continuous (was/were verb+ing)

Warm Up

- Greet your students.
- Ask students to make observations about the main illustration on pages 70-71. Ask students questions about the picture. Ask class to make a prediction about what might show up in the unit.
- Have students look at the “Look and Think” prompt question. Read the question aloud.
- Before asking students what the mother moth is thinking about, ask for volunteers to talk about what they know about how moths and butterflies change. Ask follow-up questions like: How do caterpillars stay safe? How do they make a cocoon? What other animals go through changes (think about tadpoles to frogs, children to adults, etc.)?

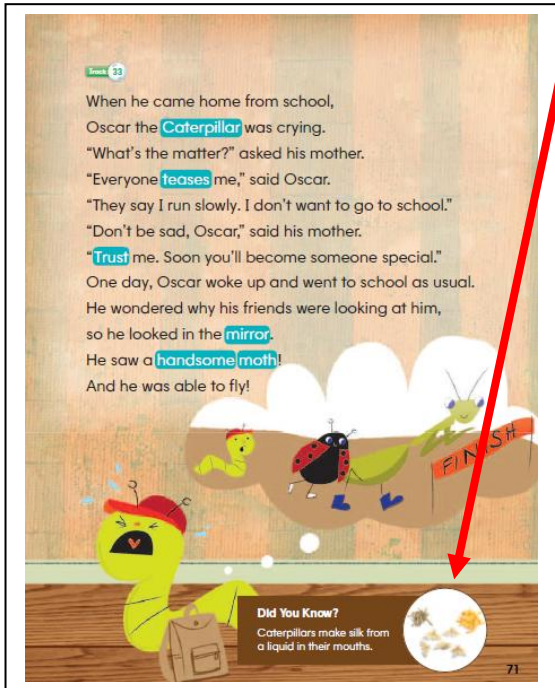

Look and Think

- This section works to engage students' interest in the unit topic.
- As an introduction to the main idea, this section includes general prompt for students to consider.

Before Reading

New Words

- Have students open their SBs to page 70. Direct their attention to the pictures along the left side of the page.
- Introduce the New Words. Go through the list, pointing to and saying the words, then have students repeat.
- Play Track 32 and have students repeat. Practice the words a few more times, calling on students individually or as a class.

Did You Know?

- Focus students to the related content at the bottom of page 71.
- After spending a lot of time eating, a caterpillar will attach itself to a branch. It then forms a hard shell around itself called a chrysalis. When it's ready, a butterfly or moth emerges from the chrysalis.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to talk about the possible dangers of being inside a chrysalis.
- Possible Extension: Ask students to think about the target grammar, past continuous. Ask students to make their own sentences with past continuous using the words "caterpillars" and/or "butterfly/moth."

Reading

Reading: "Becoming Different"

- Read the story once yourself, slowly, giving students time to follow along and look at the picture.

- Go through the story again, having students repeat each line.
- Play Track 33. Have students just listen the first time, and repeat the second time.
- Optional: Have different students read one line individually, allowing different students the opportunity to read a line.

Expansion

- Read the passage aloud, stopping before the "new words" and having students say the "new word."
- Assign students to work in groups of three or four to read the passage aloud, with each student reading one word or sentence at a time.

After Reading

Check It

This exercise checks students' comprehension of the story and reinforces the new words.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise A. Instruct students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise A alone or in pairs.
- Next, read, or ask a student to read, the direction line for exercise B. Instruct students to write the correct answers.
- Have students complete exercise B alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Talk about growing and changing.

- Remind students of the warm-up discussion about how moths and butterflies change.
- Ask students to think about how they have changed since they were young (should only be a few minutes at most) and write down some ideas about how they think they will change in the future.
- Then, ask student to turn to a partner and discuss their ideas. Students should consider how their partners' ideas are different and/or the same as theirs.
- Finally, ask student pairs to share their findings with the class. Encourage students to ask their classmates questions.
- Optional: Create a chart which represents the different opinions of the class. Compare the past and predicted changes of the students.

This exercise further reinforces the new vocabulary from the unit.

- Read, or ask a student to read, the direction line, instructing students to circle the correct answers.
- Have students complete the exercise alone or in pairs.
- Go through the answers as a class.

Expansion

Play “Word Scramble.”

Have students divide into small groups of 3 students per group. This can also work as a whole-class activity with each student playing on their own.

- On the board, write one of the words from the unit scrambled. This works best if the word remains hidden until ready to begin the round.
- Students need to unscramble and write the correct word (and spelling) on their paper or whiteboard. The first team or student to show their correct word is the winner of the round.
- Continue until all of the words have been addressed.

Learn It

73

Challenge It

This exercise provides additional grammar skills through various activities.

- Read and repeat the example sentences together.
- Ask students why they think the colored words are colored.
- Explain to students that they should add -ing to the verb to form the continuous. They should place be in the past tense before the -ing verb to make the past continuous.
- Have students complete number 1 by themselves. Walk around the class and check their work, helping if necessary.

Expansion

- Write sentences on the board, with one grammar error in each sentence. Have students find the mistakes and write the corrections.

Tip

- Direct students' attention to the Tip at the bottom of page 73. Have students refer back to the passage and find the phrase “as usual” within the text.
