be even higher	badly injured	go bankrupt
give speeches	after that

It is often said that professional athletes make too much money. I do agree that they make a lot of money. However, I disagree that they make too much money.

First, professional athletes have a very short career length. The average career length of a professional athlete is only three years, or sometimes 10 years if they are lucky. 1. _____, they must retire. This is why over 60 percent of athletes 2. _____ within five years of retirement. However, the average career length of an office worker is about 30 years. This is much longer than any athlete's career.

Playing sports is also very dangerous. An athlete may get hurt during any game they play. The risk 3. _____ for top-level athletes. And if an athlete is 4. _____, they might have to retire early. Yet a regular office worker or store clerk can and often do work while injured. They can also go back to work after an injury. This is not always true for athletes.

Lastly, athletes do more than just play sports. They 5. _____, do volunteer work in local communities, and more. And when they are not working, since they are celebrities, they usually take pictures and sign autographs for fans. Celebrities work 24/7 and also give up their privacy. There are arguments 1. _____ making children wear school uniforms. Overall, I think they are a good idea for a number of reasons.

When I was in elementary school, we 2. _____ a uniform. The best thing about school uniforms is that you don't need to think about what to wear every day. At my middle school, we don't have to wear uniforms, so we are 3. _____ whatever we like. This can be stressful, as students always want to look cool. If you wear a T-shirt that someone doesn't like, or that is out of fashion, people might make fun of you.

School uniforms also mean that people are more equal. Whether you are from a wealthy or poor family, everyone wears the same thing. No one can walk around in world-famous designer brands or make poorer students feel bad about their clothes. Everyone dresses the same and is 4. _____ way.
